MEN OF THE MOMENT

Let's hear it for the men! South Florida is home to a plethora of male leaders who are experts in their fields and enthusiastic about sharing their knowledge and skills. We'd like you to meet these successful men who are at the forefront of many businesses, including medicine, technology, automotive, private jet aviation and home improvement. You'll also get to know physicians, business owners, Realtors, CEOs, strategists, entrepreneurs and home renovation specialists.

Dr. Boaz Man

Providing Concierge
Veterinary Care

DR. BOAZ MAN is the owner and medical director of Boca Midtowne Animal Hospital. He grew up in Boca surrounded by medicine, with his father and both grandfathers being well-respected doctors. “It all began when I was 12, working holidays at animal hospitals,” he says.

Dr. Man has 16 years of experience in private practice and opened BMAH in 2013. Being the sole practitioner, he often involves veterinary experts to help provide the most thorough veterinary care available.

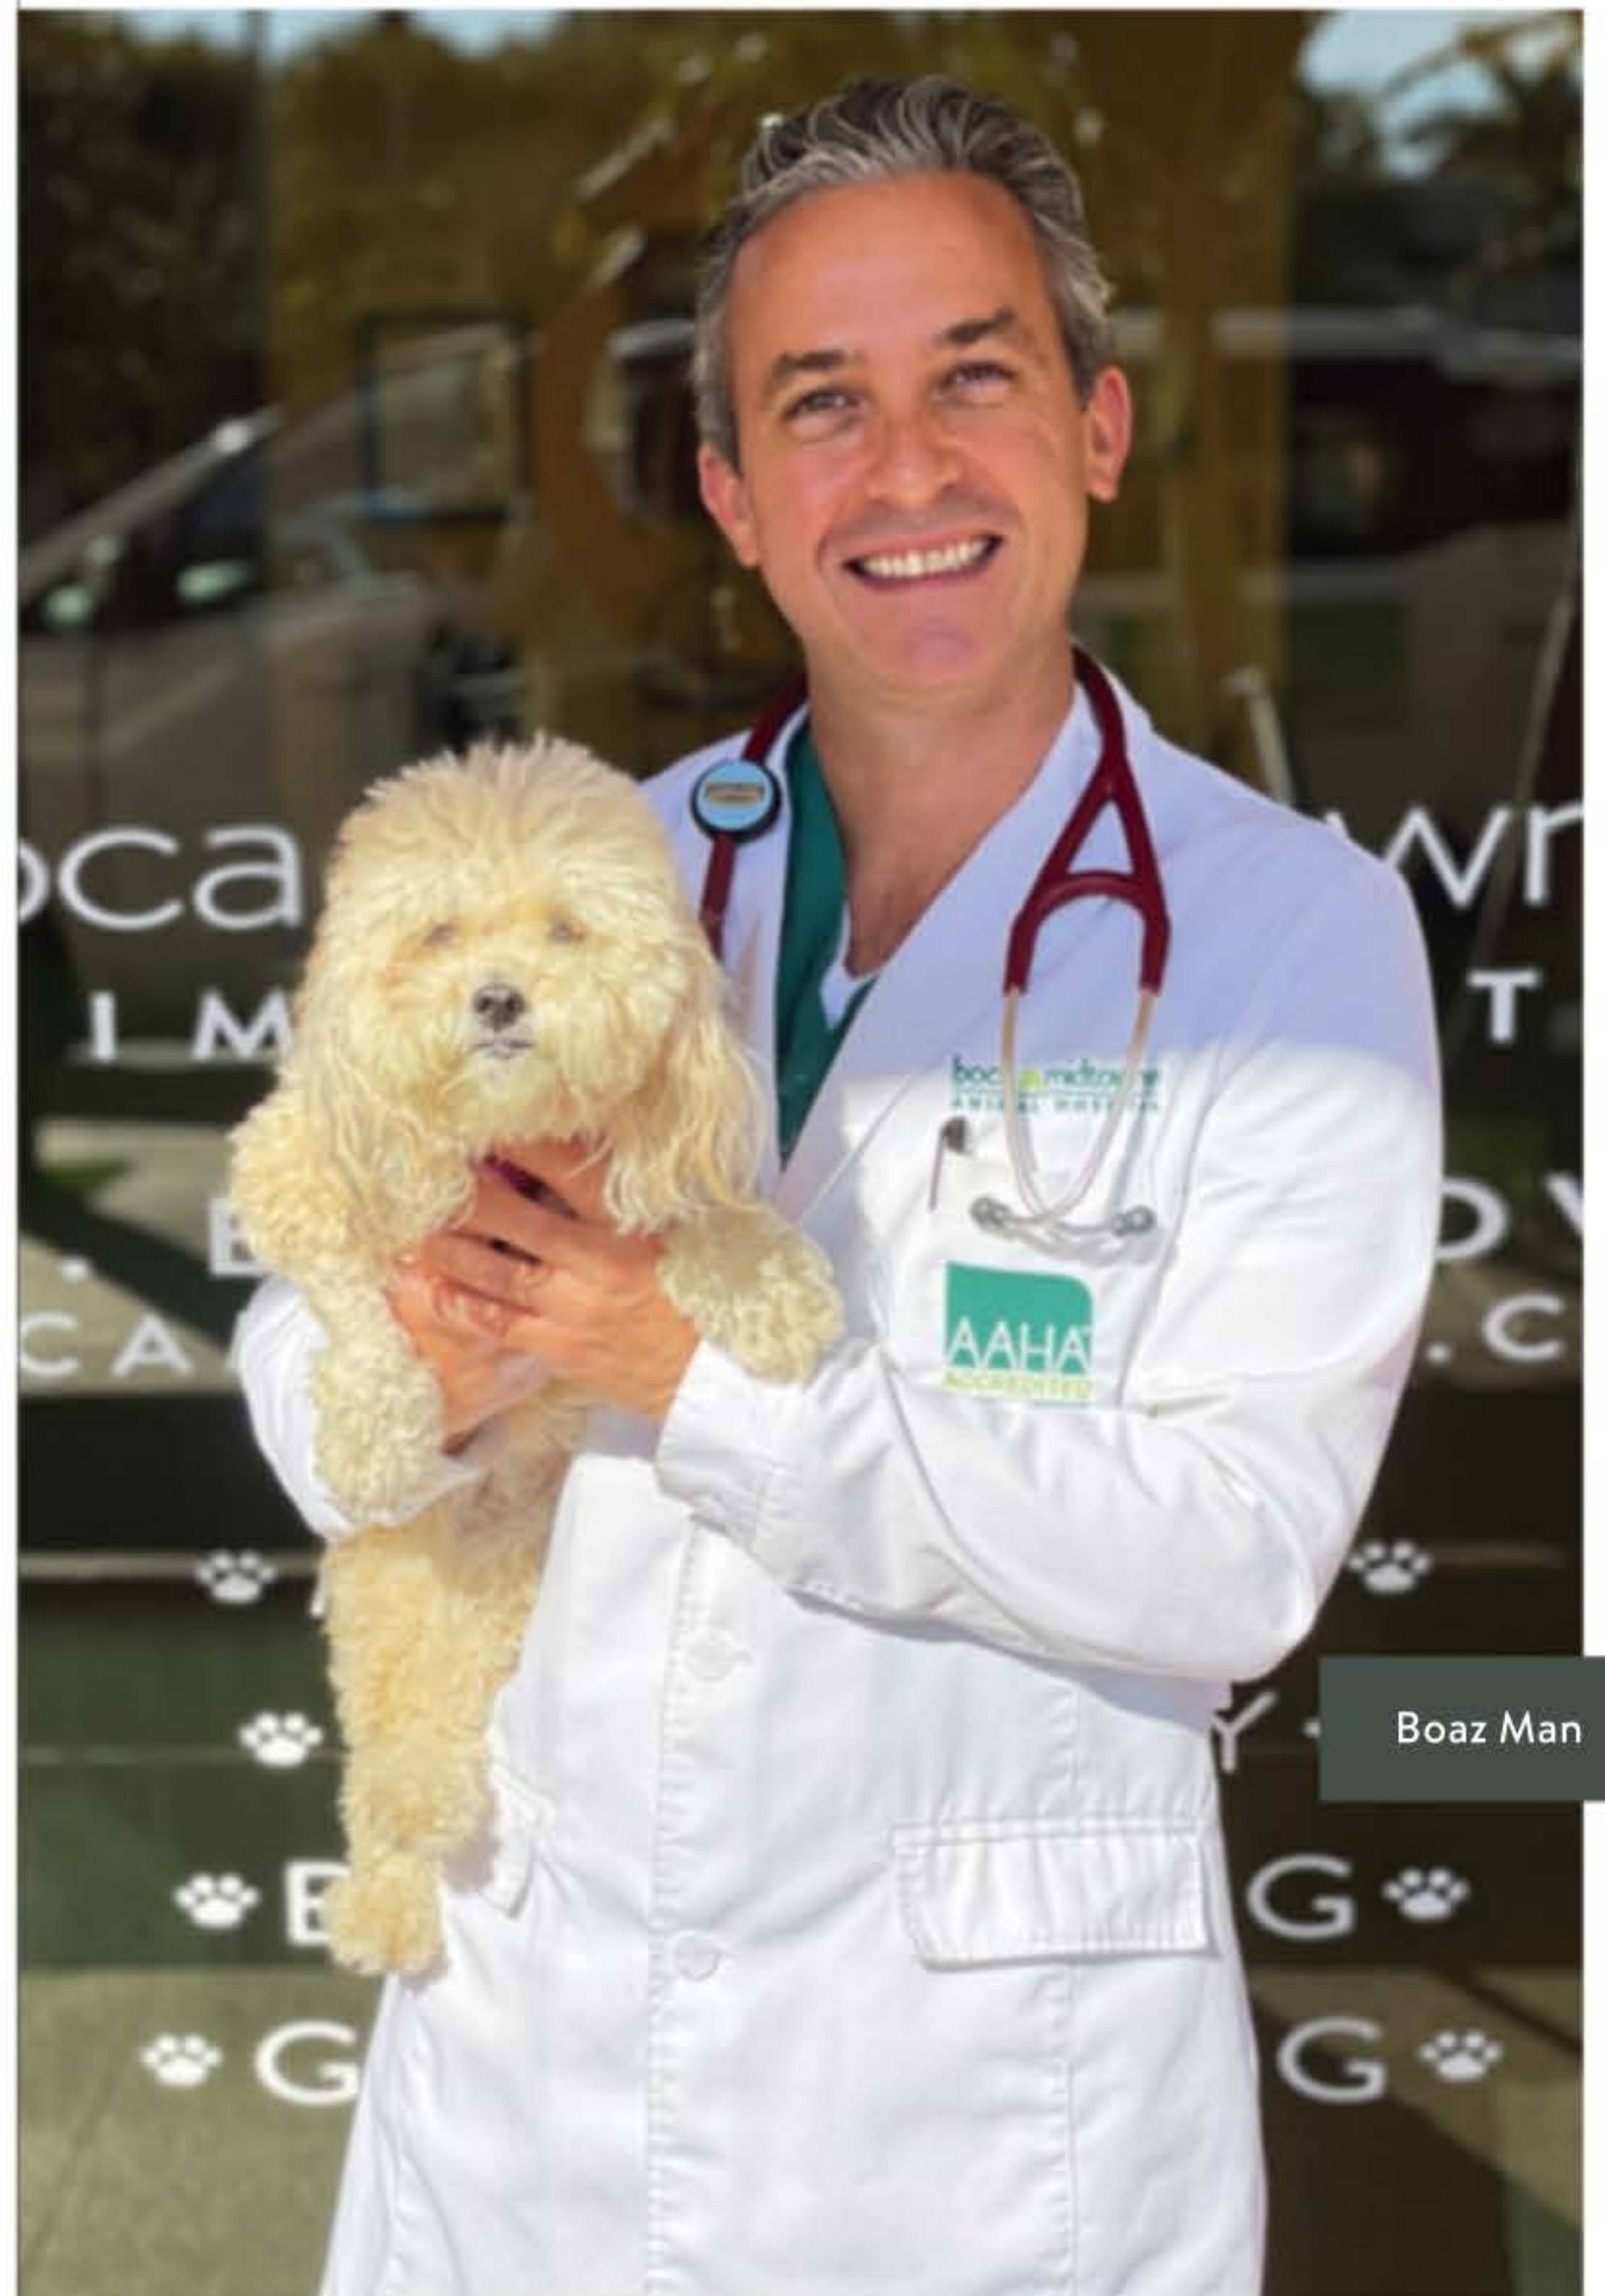

BMAH offers advanced services that are usually only accessible at referral centers. Whether your pet “requires orthopedic surgery, a CT scan, a root canal, cardiac evaluation, endoscopy, intensive care or a routine checkup, our team is available to pet parents,” he says of his practice, located in Shops of Boca Grove near Anthony’s Coal Fired Pizza and Bonefish Grill. “Providing thorough, personalized and consistent care is a critical part of our success, as compared to corporate owned and multiple doctor practices. Our team provides a concierge service which sets us apart from the rest.”

BMAH is one of only two private practices in Boca that is AAHA accredited (an organization that certifies less than 15 percent of practices in the country to be providers of the highest standards of care). Dr. Man is “Fear Free Certified,” which allows his team to prioritize a pet’s emotional well-being. A “Fear Free Vet Visit” means they use positive rewards such as cheese, gentle talk and warm towel embraces. To encourage routine checkups, they offer the cheapest vaccines in town. They also offer a free physical exam and medical history review for new patients.

Dr. Man earned his bachelor’s at the University of Miami and Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from Ross University. He enjoys sharing Instagram video blogs @bocamidtownvet educating pet lovers on hot topics. “Nothing is more rewarding than helping a sick pet. I love a challenging puzzle. Since pets don’t speak, figuring out what is going on requires experience and the right tests.”

Dr. Man was the only vet in Florida to be selected as a Trademark Top Doctor in 2020. He lives with his wife, Jade, three children and their rescue dog, Millie.

"I love working with patients that haven't had any work done yet as well as helping patients with revisions from prior surgeries. I love the feeling of being able to help them."

Dr. Daniel Man

Board Certified Plastic Surgeon
Where Patients Come First

BEFORE COVID-19, some people were reluctant to get plastic surgery. They didn't want to take off work to recover and feared seeing friends in their bandages. Due to the coronavirus, many people are home more often. They work and dine at home, socialize online and travel locally. Now, they are embracing plastic surgery since they can stay home during their recovery.

Daniel Man, M.D., a board certified plastic surgeon and medical director of Kibali Medical Spa in Boca Raton, devotes his life to helping people look and feel younger. His state-of-the-art facility is fully accredited, safe and comfortable. Dr. Man and his staff care for surgical patients from the moment they walk in until they are fully recovered. Dr. Man's hobby of painting and sculpting appeals to patients. "They like the idea that I'm knowledgeable in art," he says. "It makes a difference in the outcome of their procedures."

Dr. Man put his patients front and center, staying on top of technology trends in his field. He also enjoys helping people feel better about themselves. "I love working with patients that haven't had any work done yet as well as helping patients with revisions from prior surgeries," he says. "I love the feeling of being able to help them."

Dr. Man is known for skin rejuvenation, cosmetic laser surgery, facelifts and liposuction. He offers innovative surgical techniques including neck lifts that hide incisions and cause no hair distortion as well as nose procedures and tummy tucks. He does breast augmentation, breast reduction and breast lifts for women. Gynecomastia, a condition that causes breast tissue to swell in men, is also something Dr. Man has been successful in treating.

For a nonsurgical option, you can try DMMD. Dr. Man developed this skin cream for those experiencing acne, rosacea, redness, sun damage, melasma or aging skin. "Our patients are amazed by the results achieved without surgery," he says.
